3. Split the dataset into x_train,y_train,x_test,y_test.

```python
[67]: #load cifer10 dataset and split it.
(x_train, y_train), (x_test, y_test) = cifar10.load_data()

4. Change train data and test data into float32 and divide by 255.

```python

#That normalizes data from 1 to 0.
x_train = x_train.astype('float32')/255
y_train = y_train.astype('float32')
x_test = x_test.astype('float32')/255

5. Convert y_train and y_test into 10 categories

```python

y_train = kr.utils.to_categorical(y_train, 10)
y_test  = kr.utils.to_categorical(y_test,10)

6. Let's show images of Cifer-10 images.

Truncation was not explicitly activated but `max_length` is provided a specific value, please use `truncation=True` to explicitly truncate examples to max length. Defaulting to 'longest_first' truncation strategy. If you encode pairs of sequences (GLUE-style) with the tokenizer you can select this strategy more precisely by providing a specific strategy to `truncation`.
/usr/local/lib/python3.9/dist-packages/transformers/tokenization_utils_base.py:2339: FutureWarning: The `pad_to_max_length` argument is deprecated and will be removed in a future version, use `padding=True` or `padding='longest'` to pad to the longest sequence in the batch, or use `padding='max_length'` to pad to a max length. In this case, you can give a specific length with `max_length` (e.g. `max_length=45`) or leave max_length to None to pad to the maximal input size of the model (e.g. 512 for Bert).

```

Some weights of the model checkpoint at bert-base-uncased were not used when initializing BertForSequenceClassification: ['cls.seq_relationship.weight',
'cls.predictions.transform.dense.weight', 'cls.predictions.bias',
'cls.predictions.transform.LayerNorm.weight', 'cls.seq_relationship.bias',
'cls.predictions.transform.dense.bias', 'cls.predictions.decoder.weight',
'cls.predictions.transform.LayerNorm.bias']
- This IS expected if you are initializing BertForSequenceClassification from the checkpoint of a model trained on another task or with another architecture (e.g. initializing a BertForSequenceClassification model from a BertForPreTraining model).
- This IS NOT expected if you are initializing BertForSequenceClassification from the checkpoint of a model that you expect to be exactly identical (initializing a BertForSequenceClassification model from a BertForSequenceClassification model).
Some weights of BertForSequenceClassification were not initialized from the model checkpoint at bert-base-uncased and are newly initialized:
['classifier.weight', 'classifier.bias']
You should probably TRAIN this model on a down-stream task to be able to use it for predictions and inference.
